

컷 생성 프롬프트 (모델: Seedance 2.5)

A 6-second clay stop-motion scene in 16:9. Handmade plasticine puppets on the same miniature studio-apartment set, photographed frame by frame. Two consecutive shots continue directly after @Video1.

REFERENCES

@Video1 is the preceding scene. It ends with THE CAT tapping the linguine jar off the counter: the jar hits the floor at HEADY's right side, the lid pops off, and the linguine scatters across the floor. Continue directly from that moment. Keep the set, lighting, color grade, character positions, and props exactly as in @Video1.

@Image1 is HEADY's character sheet.

@Image2 defines the clay material, surface texture, lighting quality, and color grade. Match its look exactly. Ignore its subject, characters, setting, and composition.

@Image3 is THE CAT's character sheet.

Preserve each character's exact identity, proportions, sculpted hair or fur, accessories, and eye construction from their own sheet in every shot. Never render sheet layouts, labels, or cream backgrounds.

@Image1, @Image2, and @Image3 are references only. No shot starts from a reference image, and no shot cuts to a reference image.

CAST

HEADY

Appearance: @Image1, exactly as in @Video1. Lavender clay body, messy plum hair made of thick, twisted, rope-like clay strands with a yellow pencil tucked in, a small round nose, two small white front teeth, and an orange crossbody satchel.

HEADY's eyes: real physical craft googly eyes made of plastic. Each eye is a round white backing disk with a thin pale rim, covered by a shallow transparent plastic dome, with a separate flat black pupil disk loose inside. The domes catch small, bright specular highlights and clearly read as glossy plastic, not clay.

HEADY's glasses: round orange clay frames with no lenses. The glossy plastic eye domes sit behind the empty frames and stay clearly distinct from them.

Mood: tired but not gloomy. Mildly resigned, innocent, slightly dopey.

THE CAT

Appearance: @Image3, exactly as in @Video1. A plump orange tabby clay cat with the same plastic googly-eye construction as HEADY.

Mood: calm and expressionless, with a blank, innocent stare.

No other characters.

THE SET

The same apartment kitchen as @Video1: the single-burner stove with the pot still simmering, the counter on the right where THE CAT sits, and the floor in front of the counter where the linguine has spilled. The same warm, neutral, diffused lighting as @Video1, with night shown only through the window.

The jar is clear cast resin. The steam is soft wisps of pulled cotton wool.

FIXED BLOCKING

HEADY stands squarely in front of the stove, in the same spot as @Video1. His feet and body face the stove. Only his head, eyes, and shoulders turn.

THE CAT sits on the counter to the right of the stove, in the same spot as @Video1, and never leaves the counter.

The jar lies on the floor at HEADY's right side with its lid beside it, exactly where it landed in @Video1. It is not broken.

The linguine lies scattered across the floor, strands crisscrossing at random angles. Every strand remains a whole, flat strand of pale golden clay linguine. The mess stays exactly the same in both shots.

CONTINUITY LEDGER

Each shot begins in exactly the state the previous shot ended in. Nothing resets, jumps, or swaps between shots.

Start of Shot 5: exactly the end of @Video1. The jar is on the floor at HEADY's right side, the lid beside it, the linguine scattered. HEADY's body still faces the stove, his head and eyes turning down toward the mess.

Start of Shot 6: the counter space in front of THE CAT is now empty. THE CAT is in the same spot, looking down and to its left at HEADY.

FLOW AND PACING

Shot 5 — low angle from floor level, linguine in the foreground:

The scattered linguine lies across the floor in the foreground, strands crisscrossing at random angles, with the jar and its lid resting nearby. Above them, HEADY stands in the same spot in front of the stove, his body still facing it, his head and eyes turned down toward the mess at his right side. His pupils drop to the bottom of his plastic eye domes. He blinks once. Then he lets out a long, resigned sigh, the kind that says "of course," with a small, wry droop of the mouth. His shoulders drop a little. It feels mildly comic, not despairing.

Shot 6 — THE CAT alone, medium close-up, eye level:

THE CAT sits alone on the counter in the same spot, the space in front of it now empty where the jar used to stand. It looks down and to its left at HEADY with a blank, innocent stare, the highlights glinting on its plastic eye domes. It blinks once, slowly. The tip of its tail flicks once. Nothing else moves.

AUDIO

No music.

Shot 5: the faint simmer continuing from @Video1, then a long, resigned sigh.

Shot 6: quiet room tone and the simmer, then one small, innocent meow.

LOOK — MATCH @Video1 AND THE EARLIER OFFICE SCENES

The entire video must look like photographed frames from a real handcrafted clay stop-motion miniature set, not polished CGI, matching @Video1 and @Image2.

Strong handmade clay tactility, clearly visible on characters, furniture, walls, floor, props, and every linguine strand: strong fingerprint ridges, thumb-pressed dents, finger pressure marks, sculpting-tool grooves, small scrape marks, joined clay seams, compressed edges, slight smearing, uneven hand-shaped surfaces, tiny lumps, soft deformation, imperfect geometry. Do not stylize the clay too cleanly.

Lighting: warm neutral diffused light, gentle fill, soft shadows, moderate contrast, creamy highlights.

Color palette: cream beige, earthy brown, muted lavender, muted plum, soft ochre, muted green, restrained saturation, with the orange of the cat and the satchel kept soft and muted.

Camera: cinematic miniature photography with natural lens perspective, selective depth of field, soft optical falloff, realistic miniature-scale lighting, and subtle macro-photography characteristics.

Motion: subtle frame-by-frame puppet acting and smooth camera movement.

Mood: cozy, innocent, slightly dopey, quietly funny, empathetic, understated.

No polished CGI, no glossy 3D-render look, no perfectly smooth clay, no realistic glass simulation, no extra characters, no extra limbs, no reference-sheet layouts, no captions, no speech bubbles, no logos, and no watermarks.
